

KILLED BY A CAVE IN

Esau Borders Meets Death
in Gravel Pit this Afternoon

Was Getting Out Gravel for the Jackson Township Roads

Esau Borders, a well-known resident of the county, was almost instantly killed this afternoon by a cave-in at the Morris gravel pit in Jackson township.

Mr. Borders was hauling gravel for the Jackson township roads and went to the pit shortly after noon to begin work again. He was engaged in loading a wagon under a high bank, when it suddenly gave way and caught him before he could get out of the way. The accident happened about 2:00 o'clock. Other men working in the pit hurried to Mr. Borders' assistance, but he was practically smothered to death by time that they had uncovered him. The gravel pit is located just across the road from the residence of John Fleener, four miles northwest of town. Mr. Borders resided with his father, William Borders, on the Charles Hugo farm, northwest of town. He was twenty-eight years of age and unmarried. The body was taken home about 3 o'clock. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

Immediately after the accident Dr. O. P. Dillon as called and made preparations to go to the pit at once in his automobile. Before he was ready to start, however, he was notified by telephone that Mr. Borders was dead. Consequently the doctor did not make the trip. Coroner Coleman was notified and went out to the scene of the accident after before 2 o'clock. The young man's father had been at James H. Ball's sale during the day and was in this city preparing to go home when he was notified that his son had been killed.

MANY PEOPLE ATTEND LECTURE

Lou J. Beauchamp Opens Season's Course at M. E.
Church

The auditorium of St. Paul's M. E. church, was crowded with people who heard Lou J. Beauchamp lecture for his third time in this city.

Mr. Beauchamp's subject was "The Blunders of Humanity." Mr. Beauchamp introduced quite a great deal of humor, philosophy and common sense in his lecture. He took the blunders of the newspaper men and enlarged on them; he himself being a newspaper man; he went on and showed how many hands an article went through before it reached the reader, he said the old saying holds true, "everybody can not be perfect."

He also dwelt upon the mistakes of the congregations of our churches, saying the women and men will go to church parties and play for prizes, but they should try to abolish gambling; everyone should get right with himself and then the whole world will get right.

One of Mr. Beauchamp's marvelous statements was that there is fifty-seven times as much crime in the United States in comparison of the number of people as in Canada. Mr. Beauchamp's chief thought was to get right with yourself and not make so many "blunders" and help those that are down by making less "blunders." Mr. Beauchamp carried his audience by storm for one hour and a half.

The next number of the lecture course will be given Nov. 2d by the Eva Bartlett Concert company.

COCAINE FIEND AT WILLIAMS CREEK

Workman is Lying at Point of Death in Traction
Camp.

David Mitchell, colored, is lying at the point of death at the Kinser camp of the L. & C. Traction Co., near Williams Creek. The man is addicted to cocaine and is a drunkard, and it was while sobering up that he was stricken with paralysis. He was found, last Friday, by the roadside, lying in the rain, and was carried, by workmen of the camp, to a bed under shelter.

A physician from Connersville has attended him three or four times, but as the man is without means, the doctor feels he has more than done his share of charity. As he is not a resident of Fayette county, the officials refuse him entrance to the Poor Asylum. Laying aside humanity it is a question whether it is cheaper to give the man a chance to recover or let him die and give him a funeral.

Germany has 1,910,000 bee hives which furnish 20,000 tons of honey in a year, while Spain comes second as a producer of honey among European countries, with 1,690,000 hives and 19,000 tons of honey.

In Belgium all cows over three months old are to be seen wearing earrings. Breeders are obliged to keep a record of all cattle raised by them, and each animal has a registered trade number, which is engraved on the ring fastened to its ear.

ASKS FOR MORE TIME

Committee Soliciting for the
the New Factory Still Needs More Money

Location of Factory Here is Not Certain by Any Means

The committee soliciting funds for the location of the Francis Machine Company in this city was out with its paper again today. This afternoon the members of the committee stated that they lacked about five hundred dollars of having enough money subscribed to make the bonus necessary to bring the factory here.

Today the Improvement Association was to let the company know whether or not it will accept the proposition made by the company. The Association wired the Messrs. Francis, asking for two more days time in which to solicit funds. The request was readily granted by the company.

The location of the factory here is not assured by any means. It depends entirely upon the committee's ability to raise the remaining $500. The matter has reached a stage where it should not be allowed to drop, for the factory can be secured by a little harder pull and if the citizens subscribe, the efforts of the Association to land the factory will be successful.

Last night, as Foster was crossing the Big Four tracks at Shelbyville, he was struck by a fast passenger train. His skull was crushed and he was hurt internally. It is thought he cannot recover.

SNOW STORM IN INDIANA

Limbs of Trees Breaking—First Time Ice Forms Before
Appearance of Frost

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

South Bend, Ind., October 10.—The first snow of the season is proving a veritable winter storm. With four inches of snow on the ground, there are no prospects of a let-up. Limbs of trees are being broken as a result of the weight.

At Notre Dame, the seat of the great Catholic University, all oxfords and a few remaining straw hats were called in this morning, not by the fire bell, as usual, but by two inches of heavy snow. Snow is still falling and the snowball regulations were read to the students. Men who have been at Notre Dame thirty years say they never saw such a phenomenon.

Marion, Ind., October 10.—A blinding snowstorm struck this city from the north at 8 o'clock this morning, and kept falling for an hour. It melted as fast as it fell, however. The thermometer fell to 32 degrees early this morning, and ice formed. There has been no frost in Grant county this fall, and old weather observers say this is the first time in history that ice formed before there was a frost.

Bloomington, Ind., October 10.—Snow fell here for five minutes at 8 o'clock this morning, filling the air. It is the earliest snowfall in this section for years.

It is estimated that 5,000,000 women are earning wages in the British Isles.

TAKES NO STOCK IN "THE FIGHTING PARSON"

Rev. Dailey Unable to Get Rev.
Kuhn Out of His Hole.

Not long since Louis Ludlow in the Indianapolis Star reported some one at Richmond as having called Rev. T. H. Kuhn, of that city, who is now the Democratic nominee for congress in the district, "The Fighting Parson." Rev. Dailey, the Prohibition candidate, who sent Rev. Kuhn a challenge to discuss with him the political issues of the day, says does not take any stock in the Fighting Parson story as applied to Kuhn. "Why," he says, "I have not been able to smoke him out or induce him to come down the tree and have a tussle with me. He don't want to fight a political battle." Rev. Dailey has gone to Decatur and Shelby counties this week and will stump the other counties of the district, making two or three speeches in each county, and says he will be glad to meet the Fighting Parson at any of his meetings. He is willing to divide the time with Rev. Kuhn and let him talk with his old friends, the Prohibitionists, with whom he worked and voted. Rev. Dailey wants to know if Kuhn thinks the Prohibitionists were right two years ago and wrong now, and if he thought the Democrats wrong two years ago and now thinks them right.

SNOW FELL HERE TODAY

Winter is Formally Ushered in—Warmer Weather
Coming

Winter was formally ushered in this afternoon at which time snow fell for the first time this season. The snow here is the result of a snow storm in the Northwest, which is said to be headed this way. However, the weather man promises warmer weather for tomorrow.

WEDDING AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH

Miss Margaret Purcell Becomes the Bride of Frederick
T. Gale

A pretty wedding occurred at St. Mary's Catholic church this morning at 8 o'clock, when Miss Margaret Marie, the charming daughter of Mrs. Mary Purcell, of West First street, became the bride of Mr. Frederick T. Gale, of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Walter Cronin, who was also celebrant of the nuptial high mass.

The wedding march was played by Sister Mary Louise, organist of the church, and during the ceremony Miss Notie Moran sweetly sang "O Promise Me."

The bridal couple were attended by Miss Dollie Cooning and Mr. Mark Purcell. Madolia Cooning, dressed in pale blue mull, acted as flower girl, and little Margaret Cooning, dressed in white mull, was ring bearer.

The bride was beautifully attired in white accordion pleated Cecelian cloth, with point lace trimmings and wore a white picture hat. She carried an arm bouquet of brides roses. The bridesmaid was very prettily dressed in white crepe de chene, and also wore a picture hat. The groom and best man wore conventional black.

Special music was rendered by the choir, as the bride had been an efficient member of it for several years. At the close of mass Mrs. John Reardon very sweetly sang "Ave Marie."

Mr. Gale is proprietor of the Fair Store and is one of the city's promising young men. The bride is one of Rushville's most popular and accomplished young ladies. The young couple have a host of friends in this city and vicinity who extend to them their congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Gale left this afternoon for a short wedding trip to Chicago, after which they will return to this city to go to housekeeping in their newly furnished home on North Perkins street. A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride at the conclusion of the ceremony.

WHY CHANGE WAS MADE

Important Step Taken by Government in Big Ditch Work

Mr. Shonts Outlines Commission's Position in Matter in a Very Few Words

Washington, Oct. 10.—Invitations for proposals to complete the Panama canal have been issued by the canal commission, and the form of contract under which the work is to be done was made public by Chairman Shonts, who also gave out a letter written to the secretary of war giving the commission's reasons for contracting the work.

The contract provides that each bidder must undertake the entire work of construction. No bar will be offered to corporations associating in the undertaking, but they must be legally organized into a single body with which the government can deal. Bidders will not be considered who do not have available capital of $5,000,000. A certified check for $200,000 is required with each proposal and a bond of $3,000,000 will be required from the successful bidder. The bidding is not limited to American contractors. All proposals are to be in before noon of Dec. 12, when they will be opened.

Proposals are to be expressed in terms of percentage upon the estimated cost of construction, which is to be fixed by a board of five engineers. The chief engineer of the canal commission is to be chairman of the engineering board. The engineering board will also estimate a reasonable time for the completion of the canal, and will agree upon a system of premiums and penalties to be paid to the contractor according as the work is completed within or beyond the estimated cost and time.

The contract specifies that the commission is to retain control of all engineering work in connection with the construction of the canal, also municipal engineering, the police, sanitary, hospital and commissary departments, mess-houses, quarters, construction and maintenance of buildings, operation of the Panama railway. Sixty days after signing the contract actual work is to begin on the isthmus. No American employee is to work more than eight hours.

Chairman Shonts defends the percentage system of payment in his letter to Secretary Taft as follows:

"This plan is being employed increasingly by the oldest and largest and most successful corporations in the country. The government will get the benefit of the combined efforts of the best and most experienced contractors in the world, each in charge of a department in which he is a specialist, and co-operating with other specialists. The government will secure the co-operation of these powerful interests in keeping mechanics of all classes. By retaining control of the work and exercising strict supervision through its engineering force, the government will protect itself against cheap or faulty construction. The contract will be more flexible. Finally, a termination of the contract, should it become necessary, would be less disastrous to the contractor, while an effective resumption of the work would be made easier to the government, owing to its close relations thereto."

In support of the commission's position that the canal can be contracted to a greater advantage than it can be built by the government, Mr. Shonts's letter says that because of the unprecedented and greatly extended industrial activity of the times and the consequent violent competition for all classes of superintendents, foremen, sub-contractors, skilled mechanics and even ordinary laborers, it would take the commission years to secure men and build up departmental construction organizations which would equal in efficiency those now controlled by the leading contractors of the United States.

The Greenfield Star says: Elmer Jeffries, who lives northwest of this city, is one of the first farmers of Hancock county to raise mule-foot hogs. He has had some grades in this breed of hogs for some time, but he purchased a thoroughbred last week of a dealer at Edinburg. The grand-sire of the hog he recently purchased was imported from South Africa. The Boers of South Africa raise this kind of hog. These hogs are very black in color and immune from cholera. They are said to not a great deal of meat to their weight. These hogs are so called from the fact that they have not the divided foot, their hoof being similar to that of the mule.

ANOTHER FINED FOR CARRYING A REVOLVER

William Hodges, Colored, Pleads Guilty and is Sent to Jail

William Hodges, colored, and twenty-two years of age, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Marshal Price and taken before Mayor Cowing to answer to the charge of carrying concealed weapons. He had been carrying a thirty-two calibre revolver and flourishing it when intoxicated. He pleaded guilty before the mayor and was fined $25 and costs. He was unable to pay and was sent to jail for thirty-five days.

JESTED AT THE LIVERY BARN

Ayers Refused to Attend Wife's Funeral—Investigation of Shelbyville Tragedy

Charles J. Ayres, the husband of Mrs. Laura Ayres, of Shelbyville, who was found in bed Sunday morning, shot to death, refused to attend her funeral, Tuesday afternoon, and while the services were being held he loitered in a livery stable, talking and jesting with the employees. Within half an hour after the funeral he was on the streets of the city, apparently unconcerned, and showed that same remarkable calmness which has characterized his conduct since his wife's death. People generally are waiting with mingled anxiety and curiosity the outcome of the coroner's inquest, which is being held in the office of Sheriff Newton this afternoon. On it will depend largely whether the authorities drop further investigation or push it to a desperate conclusion.

Relatives, neighbors and friends of the dead woman—in fact, every one who would be suspected of being able to throw light on the mystery—have been subpoenaed to appear at the inquest and be questioned by Prosecuting Attorney Basseett. Up to this time practically all the evidence they have dug up is mere hearsay—what Mrs. Ayres had told her friends and relatives before her death and the conclusions of the same persons. This sort of evidence, however, would not convict in court, and Prosecutor Basseett declares that he must have evidence that will hold good before he will offer any arrest in the case.

Charles J. Ayres will be put through a rigid examination tomorrow. Mrs. Dixon, who says that Mrs. Ayres, her niece, told her that she feared her husband and that he threatened her life, will also be called upon to testify.

WORK ON THE I. & C. EXTENSION

Progress at Williams Creek—
Loop at Conners-

Work is progressing gradually toward the completion of the I. & C. extension to Connersville. The work at Big Williams Creek cut still lags, but some progress is being made and if the rains would cease, the line would soon be in running order.

A loop is being installed at Connersville, where the cars will be turned and the overhead work is being prosecuted by experienced gangs of linemen under the direction of D. O. Emery.

MAIL STOPPED FOUR TIMES

Inside History of Sears, Roebuck & Co. the Great Mail Order House

"Do you know how Sears, Roebuck & Co. started in business?" asked Mr. Zandition, editor of the Norton county (Kansas) News, recently. "I worked for them nine years ago. I knew Sears when he was a station agent in Wisconsin and Roebuck when he was a watch peddler. One time Roebuck wanted to go to Milwaukee and didn't have the money; so he left a watch as security with Sears for his fare, telling him that if he should be able to sell the watch for more than $6 he might keep half he made. Sears sold the watch for $12. Then Sears wrote to Roebuck in Milwaukee and got him to send by express a dozen watches to Bill Jones, Sam Smith and a lot of fictitious names. These watches were billed out at $25 and $10 paid on them apparently. Sears unloaded them on his friends easily at $15 each, which cost him and Roebuck $3.50. But the railroad company got on to the game and fired Sears, and the two of them opened an office in Milwaukee. They bought a thousand watches and shipped them to every express office in Kansas, Missouri and Illinois. These watches cost $3, but they sold as $25 watches and marked $10 paid to fictitious names. When the agent reported such matters back as undelivered, [then this pair would write] back that some mistake must surely be made, but as payment of $10 had been made on this watch they would allow the agent a commission of $2 to secure the other $15. Well, the watch scheme worked fine and the pair cleaned up an even $10,000. Then they bought a lot of parlor sets for children and advertised them, giving the impression that you would receive a full set of furniture for $5; and the people bit all over the country. Uncle Sam has stopped Sears Roebuck & Company's mail four times for fake deals like this, but has never been able to catch them. Sears is probably worth nine or ten million. Roebuck is working in Des Moines, Iowa, for $18 per week, being forced out of business several years ago. As an illustration of how this firm makes money, about a year ago they bought three thousand bicycles all alike, and they placed three prices on the same wheel, which cost them $6.50, and they sold it for $12.75, $16.25 and $12.50. The same wheel, mind you, possibly a different color of paint; but the only difference was that some people wanted a $12.50 wheel and others a $12.75, and they all got what they wanted. They worked the same graft on clothing. In catalogues they advertise clay worsteds at $12.50, $15 and $18. No matter what you pay you get the suit. The name Sears Roebuck & Co. is their trademark, but, as Roebuck has been bankrupt for several years, he is not connected with the firm. Yet these people have been so successful in stealing from the public [such large sums that it is a wonder Uncle Sam allows them] to exist. Their advertisements are deceptive. They do not fill orders as the customers think they are filled, yet they are smooth enough to keep within the bounds of law some way. Even your country merchant who pays a larger wholesale price for his goods than they do could get rich selling a better grade of goods to the [people that patronize these two big places. I worked for Sears, Roebuck & Co. for two years and I know what I say is true.]

Mr. Bryan has been busy explaining that he meant government ownership of railroads only as a last resort in case government regulation of railroads should prove to be a failure. Of course it is all right to shoot a horse where no other cure for an injury will do, but the veterinary surgeon who proposes shooting as a remedial agent does not inspire a great confidence even after he explains in the face of criticism that he only proposed shooting as a last resort.

"It is a gratifying fact," said Vice President Fairbanks at Pike's Peak, "that we have always possessed a wealth of good men, capable of rendering and willing to render important service in every emergency and in every step of our national progress. While we pay tribute to those of courage and genius who have done great things in the past, we can match them in the present in all the high qualities which enable them to accomplish great and difficult things for American progress and American civilization."

The following from the Richmond Sun-Telegram (Democratic) illustrates what is happening now in the matter of farm prices that was not especially noticeable ten years ago under the only tariff-for-revenue law this generation has experienced:

"Two fine farms were sold Tuesday by Dodson & Wilson to J. H. Keiton, of Illinois, for $18,000. They are located one mile east of Straughn. One 80-acre farm owned by John Hall sold for $10,000, and the other 80 acres owned by Mr. Jay, of Kokomo, for $8,000."

Third party prohibitionists at the yearly meeting of Friends at Richmond prevented the adoption of a resolution commending Governor Hanly "for the faithful performance of his duty in the fearless enforcement of the laws of our State against illegal liquor selling and gambling." The third party prohibitionists think more of a party name than they do of good government, judging by their action on this occasion and during the last State prohibition convention, when a similar resolution was defeated.

Much interest is being displayed here in the New York campaign. Secretary Kelley of the Democratic state committee says that a New York politician visited the headquarters today and left word that Hearst will undoubtedly be elected governor. He was so optimistic as to state that Hearst's majority in New York and Brooklyn will almost equal the vote for Hughes from up the state. He declared that the Hearst sentiment is spreading like wildfire in the rural communities and that he will sweep the state. It is likely that there will be considerable betting here on the New York election, as there is great interest in it.

Murder Trial in Progress.
Indianapolis, Oct. 10.—The trial of George Williams, the murderer of Patrolman Edward J. Pettiford, was begun in the criminal court this morning. Williams's attorneys are willing to enter a plea of guilty for their client and allow him to take a life sentence, but Prosecutor Benedict says he will make an effort to give the negro the death penalty. Jesse Coe, Williams's companion, who shot and killed Patrolman Russell, is still at large.

Crime of Jealous Woman.
Hinton, Va., Oct. 10.—As the result of a joke on his wife, Charles Smith, mayor of the little town of Brooklyn, near here, is believed to be dying and Mrs. Smith is also probably fatally wounded. Smith had Elbert Medley dress up as a woman and call him out to the gate. Mrs. Smith, maddened by jealousy, shot her husband through the chest and lung, and then shot her

A WHIRLWIND FINISH
Republicans Preparing for a Spirited Close of the Campaign.

Indianapolis, Ind., October 10.—The Republicans are arranging for a whirlwind finish of the campaign. Each county in the state is receiving the attention of Chairman Hayes of the speakers' bureau. He has announced the following assignment of speakers: Governor Hanly—Oct. 20, Bloomington; 22, Rushville; 24, Connersville; 25, Bluffton; 26, Lagrange (afternoon), Kendallville (night); 27, Marion (all day rally). Senator Beveridge—Oct. 22, Hammond; 23, Warsaw; 24, Winamac; 25, Terre Haute; 26, Bloomington; 27, Linton; 29, Knightstown. Senator Hemenway—Oct. 23, Rensselaer; 24, Rochester; 25, Warren; 26, Kirklint; 27, Elwood; 29, South Bend. Attorney General Miller—Oct. 15, Shoals; 16, New Albany; 17, Seymour; 18, Scottsburg; 19, Flat Rock; 20, Fairmount. Chairman Goodrich has returned from a tour of the northern part of the state. He is greatly encouraged over the outlook there.

Next week will witness a general opening of the Democratic campaign in Indiana. Chairman O'Brien of the state committee said today that it had been open for some time, but up to this time none of the big spellbinders have been turned loose. The Republicans have been at a loss for an explanation of the Democratic organization in not making any assignment of speakers, but it now develops that Chairman O'Brien and his lieutenants had determined on a short but vigorous speaking campaign. Chairman Hendren of the speakers' bureau has written to every county chairman relative to meetings, and he has been quietly arranging for the assignment of many speakers. Chairman O'Brien said today that many Democratic orators will get busy in the state next week. John W. Kern, late candidate for governor, Samuel M. Ralston of Lebanon, and a dozen well-known party spellbinders are now being assigned to meetings to be held next week. It is understood that there will be no general policy for the speakers to follow on state issues. Those whose speeches will attract most attention from the public will be trusted to handle the situation to suit themselves. Chairman O'Brien said that a request had been made of the congressional campaign committee for speakers, but no reply has been received.

Attorney General Miller has asked the supreme court to advance the French Lick gambling cases and the suit against A. C. Dailey, former auditor of state, to collect about $26,000, which it is alleged he wrongfully withheld in fees during his term. Mr. Miller wants an early argument and decision in these cases. A week ago he asked that the French Lick case be advanced and Taggart's attorneys, A. G. Smith and John W. Kern, be instructed to file their pleadings within a short time. At the request of Messrs. Kern and Smith, the court gave them a week to file an answer showing why the cases should not be advanced. They will appear before the court today to argue the matter.

It is hardly likely that Bryan will be brought into Indiana for a second trip to close the campaign. Chairman O'Brien said he has asked the congressional bureau to assign Bryan to Indiana for the last three days of the campaign and that he also talked to Bryan personally about the matter. Bryan would come willingly if arrangements could be made by the congressional bureau, but no word has been received from the latter as to what it can do for the cause. Chairman O'Brien and Chairman Hendren have completed the list of places they want Bryan to visit on his trip Oct. 22, 23 and 24, and the railroad companies are now working on a schedule.

WAR TO THE END
Newfoundlanders Promise to Give American Fishermen Trouble.

St. Johns, N. F., Oct. 10.—The statements contained in a Washington dispatch, received here, to the effect that Newfoundland merchant fishermen controlled the government, had tried to prevent the Americans from securing treaty rights and had hampered the British government in assuring such rights to Americans, is indignantly denied in official circles here. On the contrary, officials declare that the British government strongly upheld every contention advanced by Newfoundland until a few weeks ago, when it suddenly abandoned the colony and surrendered to the Americans. The colonial ministry has decided not to resign, and intends to fight the matter to the end. It will suspend the regulations prohibiting the local use of purse seines, thereby putting the colonists upon an equality with the American fishermen. It will dispatch the cruisers Fiona and Neptune to patrol the herring areas. All existing colonial laws will be rigidly enforced against the Americans for the least offense. American vessels will be confiscated instead of fined as formerly. Every concession hitherto granted the Americans will be withdrawn. Local fishermen will be encouraged to occupy the waters before the Americans arrive.

The government has received assurances from leading clergymen of various creeds of their readiness to join Archbishop Howley in a public platform of protest against the modus vivendi.

RUNS INTO MONEY
Possibilities of Bryan's Government Ownership Scheme Staggering.

WHAT SOCIALISM WOULD COST
Indiana Would Be Saddled With an Enormous Public Debt That Would Bend the Backs of Generations Yet Unborn.—Would Mean a Doubling of the Tax Levy.

(R. G. Tucker in Cincinnati Enquirer)

The bewildering possibilities of government ownership of railroads in Indiana, as suggested by William Jennings Bryan, as a cure-all for evils existing in the commercial world, were demonstrated at Indianapolis recently on paper by a state official, who has been figuring on them for his own information.

According to him the state of Indiana would be saddled with an overwhelming debt for the next century or bankrupted within a short time by the enforced purchase of local lines. His conclusion was that Bryan declared for government and state ownership without attempting to learn the cost to the state and federal governments.

According to the report of the state board of tax commissioners for the recent session the total value of the railroads in Indiana for the purpose of taxation is $182,000,000. The trunk lines were appraised at $105,000,000 and the local lines at $77,000,000.

Quarter Billion of Prosperity.
It has been the custom of the state tax board to assess the railroads at about seventy-five per cent. of their total valuation, so the sale value of the trunk and local lines at a conservative estimate would be in the neighborhood of $250,000,000.

The official who made these figures asserted that it would cost the state of Indiana at least $103,000,000 to buy the local lines even should the various companies submit gracefully and permit their property to be taken at the state's prices. He also declared that it was an easy matter to see how trouble would start for the state government as soon as the roads were taken over.

For instance, he said that it would be difficult to float bonds for $103,000,000, as they would have to run at least a century, and probably could not be sold unless they bore four per cent. interest annually, which would cost the state $4,120,000 the first year.

The state would have trouble paying the indebtedness at a rate of $1,000,000 annually, but at that pace 103 years would be required to discharge the principal. In the meantime the interest would reach an enormous total, so the local lines would cost the state in the neighborhood of $425,000,000 before the principal was discharged.

Increase in Tax Levy.
Figuring further, he showed to what an enormous extent the state tax would be increased. It is now 31.35 cents per $100. The levy for the general fund is twelve cents; state benevolent institutions, five cents; state educational institutions, school fund, 11.60 cents. The railroads (trunk and local lines included) are now paying about $5,000,000 in taxes in Indiana.

If government ownership, as now understood, were to be instituted, the $5,000,000 taxes paid by the roads would have to be sacrificed, as the state and federal governments would not pay taxes. In order to pay four per cent interest on a bonded indebtedness of $103,000,000 and to obtain money to discharge the principal a tax levy of 35.5 cents per $100 would have to be added to the present tax levy. The withdrawal of the taxes now paid by the local railroads to the state would also necessitate an increase from 31.35 cents to 35.5 cents in order that the total state tax levy fund might be held at the present mark.

The total tax levy for the state would be seventy-two cents if the local lines could be purchased for $103,000,000. The state and counties, the official pointed out, would also suffer further by the withdrawal from taxation of the value of the trunk lines which would bring the total state tax levy up three or four cents.

Would Have to "Dig."
The state, he figured, would be compelled to dig up $5,120,000 as its first payment for the local lines. The money could not be obtained except by an increase in the tax levy on all kinds of property, as the state was unable to carry out many of its projects at the last session of the legislature owing to a scarcity of funds.

The total tax values in Indiana on which funds are to be raised for next year is $1,582,000,000. There are many counties, notably Lake, in which the railroads pay nearly half of the taxes, so the official figured that the government ownership plan would hit them hard.

In Lake county, for instance, the railroads pay half the taxes. The other property would have to be assessed at twice its present valuation if the revenue derived by the county was not cut square in two. Going further into the possibilities of government ownership, as Bryan suggests, he said that the federal government would take over the paying lines, while the state would get only those that are now classed as nonpaying feeders.

Buying "Streaks of Rust."
He declared that there are only three or four local lines in Indiana that are paying propositions. Most of them are "streaks of rust" that the trunk lines maintain out of their profits. The state, he said, would not be able to make money enough to pay the interest on the bonded indebtedness, so there would be nothing left but to more than double the present state levy.

The Democratic press of the state is silent relative to Bryan's latest idea. It has fallen on deaf ears, so far as the Democratic editors are concerned, as they are neither advocating nor defending it.

About all the Democratic papers contain on government ownership is written at the state committee rooms and sent out in the regular press bureau service. This has not advocated government ownership or defended it, but from the start has been an effort to interpret the "peerless one's" views so they will do the party as little harm as possible.

CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDACIES.
They Involve This Year the Prosperity of the American People.

Hon. Charles J. Bonaparte, speaking at a recent meeting of Republican editors in Maryland, brought out the fact that every congressional candidacy primarily involved the most important national issues. He said:

When we deal with congressional candidacies we must deal with them as party men; we must have reasons to give why the next house of representatives ought to be Republican, reasons which may satisfy the judgment and conscience of all who truly love our common country. Within the past ten years under Republican rule, this country has grown and prospered as even she never grew and prospered previously; in population, in wealth, in the respect of mankind, she has surpassed the progress of any other nation in the like time, and even her own amazing progress in any earlier ten years of her wonderful history.

"Note merely the growth of our foreign commerce. I choose this illustration because a protective tariff is not generally supposed to foster foreign commerce; certainly such is not the teaching of either Democratic statesmen or Democratic editors. If, however, we judge not from editorials, nor yet from speeches in our congress, but from the recorded facts before our eyes, the results may be well called startling. For the year ended on the last day of August the combined exports and imports of the United States exceeded the enormous sum of three billion dollars; and for August the figures for both exports and imports surpassed those of any previous August.

"This prodigious prosperity, this extraordinary growth in wealth and in all that wealth brings has had its drawbacks. As our country has grown too rich, some of our citizens have grown too rich for her good or their own usefulness, some among our vast industrial enterprises have spread beyond just and reasonable limits of activity and strength and developed into formidable monopolies defying the control of our states and threatening the commercial liberties of our people.

"Both parties recognize the existence of these evils and of these dangers; but while the Republican party, guided and inspired by President Roosevelt, has sought resolutely, faithfully and with much promise of success adequate remedies for what is wrong, while fostering all that is fair and beneficent in our life as a nation, the Democratic party has advocated only crude, ill-considered, sweeping and revolutionary measures which might or might not remove the abuses we regret and condemn, but would surely, promptly and hopelessly ruin the national prosperity we justly prize. Democrats as a party would cut down the tree yielding all this rich fruit to get rid of a few baleful insects which infest it. We propose to apply a treatment fatal to them, but healthful and invigorating to the tree itself, and in the application of this treatment we have already made a promising beginning.

"On this issue we invite the voter's verdict. If they are tired of prosperity, if they wish to see dull times, less work to be done and therefore less wages to be paid, a check to industry and enterprise, and all the other fruits of uncertainty and alarm as to our business future, in such case they will send to Washington a Democratic majority to talk and, as nearly as possible, keep the president from getting anything done during the last two years of his term. If they would see two more years spent as the term of this congress has been spent, our trade steadily growing, both within our borders and abroad, our industries developing in security and hope with the assurance of a settled commercial policy, work at fair wages for all real workers and whatever more is implied in the nation's growth and wealth and continued prosperity, then they will send to the capitol a house of representatives worthy and willing to back up a good American Republican president in two more years of good American Republican work."

IT IS NOT A TRUST
At Least, That Is What the Standard Says of Itself.

SOME ANCIENT HISTORY
In the Hearing at Findlay a Mass of Old Pleadings Is Presented to the Jury.

The State's Contention That the Standard Is a Trust Is Denied by Defense.

Findlay, O., Oct. 10.—The suit of the state of Ohio against the Standard Oil Company of Ohio, in which the company is charged with conspiracy against trade, is progressing at a rapid pace. A jury was secured in less than two hours; County Prosecutor W. L. David presented his case; Virgil P. Kline, attorney for the defense, made answer; Attorney G. H. Phelps of the prosecution then read documentary evidence which was continued the greater part of today.

In brief, Mr. David stated to the jury that the Standard Oil company became a trust in 1882, and although it had several times since changed the form of its organization, had not ceased to commit the offenses of a trust.

Replying, Mr. Kline characterized as mere matters of ancient history the relation of the original formation of the trust. The Standard Oil company, he said, was a corporation controlled entirely by its stockholders; it was in no trust; it could not be said that any of the statements of Mr. David relative to the early history of the organization were true, but if they were they were not within the limits of Hancock county and consequently without the jurisdiction of the court. The company, he said, sold some oil at retail in the county and might own some real estate here, but the statement that it was in any combination in restraint of trade was entirely unsupported by the facts.

The documentary evidence which the prosecution began submitting and which it is stated constitutes the bulk of their case, is contained in a document authenticated by the supreme court of the state as the history of the Standard Oil litigation between that body. It was all objected to by the defense as irrelevant, but allowed to go in by Judge Banker presiding. The document read to the jury following the statement of case by both sides, included the original trust agreement of 1882, the pleadings in the case before the supreme court in 1892 which resulted in the order to dissolve the trust; the pleadings before the same court in 1897 resulting in a judgment by the court that the trust had been dissolved.

The trial attracted very little public attention. The tedious reading of the evidence discouraged public interest, and when adjournment was had last evening few but the interested parties were present.

INCITED TO MURDER
Remarkable Address by Discip' of Russian Repression.

Odessa, Oct. 10.—President Duoro of the Union of Russian People made a remarkable address here. He spoke to a band of 300 armed members of the union who had carried him on their shoulders to the railroad station on his departure for Kiev, and said: "In the name of our beloved emperor, I bless you. The holy Russian cause is the extermination of rebels. You know who they are and where to find them. Clear the Russian soil of them. The Russian people want neither constitutions nor parliaments, but orthodoxy and autocracy. Go ahead, brothers; death to the rebels and Jews."

After his train had left the band of 300 rushed down the principal streets, shouting: "Death to the rebels, death to the Jews." All shops were at once closed and the Jewish population was in a condition of panic and terror throughout the night. Measures taken by the prefect, however, prevented further disturbances.

Argenta, Ark., Oct. 10.—Alexander Champion, a negro bartender and a member of a number of negro fraternal orders, was shot to death in a saloon at the foot of the free bridge between Little Rock and Argenta. Champion is alleged to have made remarks concerning the Lindsays. This is the first trouble here since the lynching Sunday night.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS

Tend to Confirm Theory That Mrs. Ayers Was Murdered.

Shelbyville, Ind., Oct. 10.—New and sensational developments are expected to be brought out at the coroner's inquest in the mysterious death of Mrs. Laura Ayers, wife of Charles J. Ayers, who was found dead in bed with a bullet in her brain.

Despite the fact that Coroner Bass filed a death certificate saying Mrs. Ayers committed suicide, he will assist Prosecutor Bassett in a thorough investigation of the tragedy. In addition to the bullet wound, it is stated that a wound was found on her right cheek and that the bone had been fractured.

Coroner Bass began his inquest this morning. The developments tend to confirm the theory that Mrs. Ayers was the victim of a murderer.

The prosecutor received a telegram from an Indianapolis attorney stating that he had in his possession positive evidence that Mrs. Ayers did not commit suicide. He did not state from whom the telegram came, but it is thought as John W. Kern was attorney for Mrs. Ayers in a recent settlement of property, the telegram came from him.

CUBANS BREATHE EASIER

Taft's Amnesty Order Covers a Multitude of Sins.

Havana, Oct. 10.—An amnesty proclamation of the most sweeping character possible, pardoning every serious crime which has been an outgrowth of the recent revolution and its causes, was issued by Governor Taft today. Complete pardon is granted to all persons involved in the killing of Congressman Villuendas at Cienfuegos in September, 1905, as well as to everybody implicated in the killing of several rural guardsmen at Guanabacoa last February.

Trouble is predicted by some Cuban publications as a result of this decision to withdraw the prosecutions against the murderers of Villuendas. The proclamation serves notice that armed bands breaking the law after today will be proceeded against and denied the benefits of amnesty.

The proclamation after reciting that the insurrectionary forces have been disbanded, that active and organized hostilities have ceased, and that it is the purpose of the provisional government to promote the restoration of normal conditions of peace favorable to the early re-establishment of Cuban self-government, declares as follows: "Without reservation or condition except as hereinafter provided, there shall be full and complete amnesty and pardon to all who directly or indirectly participated in the recent insurrection in Cuba or who gave aid or comfort to persons participating therein, and for political offenses committed in the course of said insurrection."

The amnesty is declared to cover rebellion, sedition and conspiracy and gives immunity from prosecution for seizures and expropriation of property for military use by the insurrectionary forces. Prosecutors are ordered to have the proclamation applied to cases in which judgment already has been rendered, and those in which sentence is being served.

Governor Taft said that practically all the American warships in Cuban waters would soon be withdrawn. The officers of marines stationed in various localities are advised that they are not expected to take part in an active way in the suppression of disorder unless extreme emergency arises in which it is absolutely necessary for them to protect life and property. The duties of the marines are generally limited to tending their good offices between the conflicting elements and the prevention of that friction which in the high state of tension between the political parties is inevitable during the present crisis. The order says it is expected that the presence of the marines in the community will create such a sense of security that the rural guards and the police will be able to suppress any disorder which manifests itself.

Charles E. Magoon, the newly appointed provisional governor of Cuba, arrived here yesterday. Following a conference with Governor Taft and Mr. Bacon, Mr. Magoon received the members of the press. He declined to discuss his plans for the future.

Mr. Cannon Complimented.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Speaker Joseph G. Cannon was the guest of honor at the Chicago Day banquet given by the Marquette club last night at the Auditorium. He responded to the sentiment "Illinois." The speaker was toasted as the leading citizen of Illinois, and every reference to his possible candidacy for the presidency was applauded.

A DANGEROUS MISTAKE.

Rushville Mothers Should not Neglect Kidney Weakness in Children.

Most children have weak kidneys. The earliest warning is bed-wetting. Later comes backache, headache, languor.

'Tis a mistake to neglect these troubles. To blame the child for its own distress. Seek to cure the kidneys—Save the child from deadly kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys. Mrs. Charles Petet, of 27 North Vine St., Shelbyville, Ind., says: I was sent to a drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills to give to my little boy, who was afflicted with nocturnal weakness of the kidneys, caused by an attack of scarlet fever.

There has been no cessation of the trouble until I gave him this remedy, although we have given him other medicines and prescriptions, which failed to relieve him. Doan's Kidney Pills brought such prompt relief that I highly recommend them for children with weak kidneys." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Company, Buffalo, New York, sole agent for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The All Important Question

in selecting your shoes is their fitting qualities. No matter how stylish a shoe may be, or how excellent may be the workmanship, unless it fits perfectly you will not get your money's worth; for poorly fitting shoes not only loose their shape but they wear out more quickly.

We sell shoes that are not only stylish and reliable but fit perfectly.

We will welcome the opportunity of convincing the most skeptical that our shoes are all we claim.
